

Light in the Shadows

APRIL 2017

"Let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven." Matt. 5: 16

Setting Our Sights Towards Easter

"In every insult, rift, and war where color, scorn or wealth divide, he suffers still, yet loves the more, and lives, though ever crucified."

[1982 Hymnal #182, verse 4]

Whenever I hear this hymn played in Church, it reminds me of the experience Doug and I had on Easter Sunday at our church in Hawaii. We had a guest organist that Sunday who played this hymn for the Processional. Unfortunately though, for us, this hymn was played quite slowly and sounded more like a dirge than the joyous hymn it is intended to be. Despite my somewhat disappointing experience with this hymn, I nevertheless continue to look forward to singing this hymn "Christ is alive!" every year at Easter.

"As we set our sights towards the Easter joy that awaits, let's first remember to slow down and take some time to savor the union we share with Christ who has come to bring us healing and light and who bids us to join Him in healing our broken and dark world."

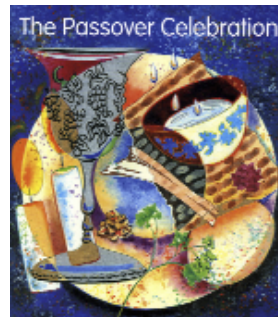

—Rev. Heidi L. Edson

Like the Spring here in Vermont that seems to be slow in coming this year, April has arrived but Easter is yet to come. We still find ourselves in Lent. As an avowed "sun-lover," I would much prefer it were both Spring and Easter already! Perhaps some of you share my sentiment. What I appreciate about this hymn, "Christ is alive!", is its ability with each verse to capture for us as worshippers the paradox that is the Good News. The lyrics by Brian Wren (b.1936) that we sing do not ever allow us to forget Jesus' death on the cross while we, at the same time, celebrate in song and praise Jesus' glorious resurrection. Wren's words remind us

Come Join Us For A Traditional SEDER Meal On April 12

St. Luke's Church invites you to participate in a traditional Seder Meal on Wednesday, April 12 in Willard Hall, beginning at 6:00 p.m.. St. Luke's began holding Seders in 2006, as a way of acknowledging our common Jewish biblical roots. The Seder is a ritual meal that celebrates the Jewish festival of Passover. Christians, whose traditions are rooted in Judaism, share the Passover experience of a people enslaved and then redeemed when God brought them to freedom, to covenant, to a Promised Land. Through the centuries the ritual of the Passover has allowed each generation of Jews to relive their history and make the story its own. Through the ritual found in this "Haggadah" (the book of readings for the Seder service), Jews and Christians can remember and share the momentous events of God's call and redemption: the Story of Passover. The service will be led by Belinda Whipple Worth. Assisted by Janet Hunter. Ashley Paine will be the musician.

As we celebrate the Seder at St. Luke's, we are mindful and respect the religious significance of the Seder to our Jewish brothers and sisters and have strived to include some of them in the planning and executing of the meal. We are

Lenten Meditation

Tonight I am sitting by my fire, enjoying the Sunday evening "All the Traditions" folk music show. I get a phone call from the friend of one of my clients. Generally, I do not give my phone number to clients or to their friends. In fact, this is the first time I have ever done so. In her situation there are persuasive reasons to make an exception to this rule of professional boundaries. The friend tells me that her friend, my client, who has recently, very unexpectedly, lost her husband, is in a very bad way. She is suicidal and refusing to accept help or hospitalization. In fact, she cannot cope with the death of her "Rock." He was the one who knew, understood and loved her in all her facets. She relied on him absolutely. She wouldn't use this language, but he was her "savior" in many ways. And then one day at work a major artery burst and he was dead. No warning. No time for preparation.

We know that the crucifixion, the death of our Savior, is coming and exactly when, because we have been repeating this cycle for two millennia. My client had no idea. Neither did Jesus's Disciples have any idea.

Even when you know it is coming, how do you prepare for the death of your Savior, the Ground of your Being?

This is all very heavy, isn't it? I give this depth of thought and feeling only the very briefest spurts of attention. Otherwise it's too much! I suspect I would not be able to bear the reality of this Death. Even though I know that Life returns, that Jesus rises from the Dead. Like my client, if I really let myself live into the reality of that death, I might conclude that it is just too hard to go on without my Savior, my Rock.

As a spiritual discipline, for the benefit of my spiritual development, what would it be like if I took the time to prepare for the death of my Savior, as though unaware that Life and Resurrection are coming in the future? What would it be like to live into the reality of that loss? What would it be like to experience the loss of that on which my life depends?

Awaiting the "Alleluia,"

*Your sister in Christ,

of the liminal time and space in which we find ourselves right now in the Passiontide awaiting the Easter soon-to-come. In God's economy, both death and life are present in all things and held together by the Cross of Christ.

Verse four of this hymn seems to describe what we are seeing around us today in our world. In these weeks past and still to come, we will have heard and (hopefully) experienced for ourselves Jesus as the "three L's": Living Water, Light of the world, and, most importantly, as the Lamb of God. As we set our sights towards the Easter joy that awaits, let's first remember to slow down and take some time to savor the union we share with Christ who has come to bring us healing and light and who bids us to join Him in healing our broken and dark world.

*Blessings,

blessed to share the Seder Meal with them. The goat and lamb will be a gift again this year from the Haumanns of Misty Mountain Farm. Bonnie has secured the other elements of this special meal including the meringues and macaroons. The Seder is a family-centered affair and children have a significant part to play. It is rich in tradition and a time for joy, good eating, singing and celebrating God's redemption of us all. We hope you will come and share this event with your friends and neighbors. Suggested donation: $10 age 12 and up, $7.50 age 5-11, under 5 free.

Proceeds will benefit Kids4Peace. Kids4Peace is an interfaith community of Israeli, Palestinian and North American members (youth, families & educators) working together for a better future. Help Us Adorn The Altar With Easter Memorial Flowers

*Easter morn with lilies fair
Fills the church with perfume rare,
As their clouds of incense rise,
Sweetest offerings to the skies.
Stately lilies pure and white
Flooding darkness with their light,
Bloom and sorrow drifts away,
On this holy hallowed day.
Easter Lilies bending low
In the golden afterglow,
Bear a message from the sod
To the heavenly towers of God.*

—Louise Lewin Matthews

Every year St. Luke's Altar Guild adorns the sanctuary with fragrant Easter lilies and other spring flowers in joyful celebration of our Lord's resurrection on Easter Day. For many the beautiful trumpet-shaped white flowers of the lily symbolize purity, virtue, innocence, hope and life—the spiritual essence of Easter. Parishioners are invited to contribute funds for this lovely tradition in remembrance of their departed loved ones or in thanksgiving for special family members and friends who are still a part of their lives. If you wish to do so, please make a check payable to: St. Luke's Church with a note on the memo line: "Easter Memorial Flowers." Send it along with your list of names indicating if "in Memory of" (those who have died) or "in Thanksgiving of" (those still living) —PLEASE PRINT CLEARLY—to: Adelaide Johnson, 294 Hill Top Road, Andover, VT 05143. Thank You!

When We Can't Find Easter

Easter is the most joyous Christian holy day...except when it's not. What do we do when our mood isn't what we think it "should" be? The kids are sugared up, we're juggling family gatherings (and maybe conflicts), our everyday challenges remain, and festive hymns—however rousing—fail to lift our spirits. We wonder, "What's wrong with me, that I can't seem to find Easter?"

Been there, done that. And it's okay. You're okay.

Jesus' resurrection doesn't scoop us out of our troubles, but the death-defying Christ walks through them beside us, on our own Emmaus road (Luke 24). We aren't alone. When we can't find Easter, Easter somehow finds us—if not on this designated Sunday, perhaps two days from now, or next week or mid-May. Watch for it; keep your heart open. Christ is risen indeed—and you shall be too.

Youthful LEGO Engineers Display Amazing Creations

Thanks to NewsBank, its Chester Conference Center on Saturday, March 18 was agog with young engineers who created some fabulous entries in the sixth annual LEGO Contest, sponsored by St. Luke's. Exhibitors in grades Pre-K through Eighth—and their siblings, parents, grandparents, and friends—came from 17 towns in Vermont and one in New Hampshire. All attendees enjoyed drinks provided by Lisai's Market in Chester and donuts, partially donated by Allen Brothers in Westminster, as they reviewed the many different entries and shared ideas and techniques for their constructions.

Individual, team, and family entries were judged by grade for originality, imagination, and presentation. What met the eye was not always the whole of the exhibit. A seemingly "solid" LEGO box called "Puzzle Safe" measuring 8"x8"x4" had a hidden key that, when removed and inserted into small holes in the walls, prompted pieces to move, so that eventually a door was opened to reveal the interior of the box. Other exhibits included an arcade, pinball machine, pneumatic crane, camera, vehicles of all kinds, battle stations, ice skates, restaurants, pet centers, farms, and more. Many exhibits had movable parts—some powered by a battery—and lights.

Judges Doug Edson, Chris Meyer, Andrew Pennell, and high-school student, Gurion Lake—grandson of the Watters—spoke with participants to learn in detail the aims and special features of their designs. The judges then wrote personal comments on each exhibit card to let the contestants know what was most appealing or impressive to them and to emphasize the fact that the judges appreciated all the time, imagination, and skill involved in each entry.

Judge Andrew Pennell listens carefully as second-grader Isaac Lake, grandson of Bonnie & Lew Watters, explains the parts and intent of "Red Skull's Palace."

The 2017 LEGO Contest drew an enthusiastic crowd of children and parents.

Around noon, LEGO ribbons and prizes were awarded to the winner and runner-up in each grade category, and a medal was given to every participant. In the Family category, second place was won by Isaac Lake and Family of Brookfield (they are the grandchildren of Lew and Bonnie Watters) for "Red Skull's Palace."

Three special awards were also given.

Most Vermont: "Five Seasons in Vermont" by the Doran Family of Chester, VT

Best in Show: "Lego Pinball" by sixth grader Joey Gomez of Chester, VT

Creators' Choice: "Pinball Wizzard" by the Reineman-Howard Family of Windsor, VT. This award was voted the show's favorite by the contestants themselves.

Three first-place grade winning exhibits are on display during April at Chester's Whiting Library: "Vermont Fresh Food Restaurant" by first grader Victoria Turco of Chester; "Ice Skates," by second grader Michelle Klepp of Baltimore; and "Still Life Photography" by fifth grader Estella Gross of Cavendish. The public is invited to come see at their leisure some of this year's award-winning constructions and consider what might be a good entry for the 2018 contest.

Proceeds from the contest will enable St. Luke's to send a donation to the Children's Section at Chester's Whiting Library. The financial success of this event is attributed completely to generous in-kind donations from three local businesses; to financial contributions by St. Luke's parishioners Jane Davis, Pat Fromberger, Bill Hoyt, Adelaide & Red Johnson, and Andrew Pennell; and to Chris Meyer, who donated many large and expensive LEGO sets for prizes. Special thanks go to our four enthusiastic volunteer judges and to the amazing volunteer help provided by Jessica Buchanan, Adelaide & Red Johnson, Lew Watters, Kathryn Wright, and David Willis. The support from so many at St. Luke's and the community made this family-oriented and inspirational program possible and effective once again. Thank you to all supporters, volunteers, and participants! —Lillian Willis, LEGO Contest Organizer

March Vestry Meeting Highlights

The March Vestry was opened with prayer and reading of the St. Luke's Mission Statement. Our focus for this month was "Maintenance." A concern about dampness under the carpeting from condensation on the concrete floor was raised. There is no potential mold problem because the dehumidifier removes the moisture, however, it has caused the adhesive to show along the joins of some of the carpet squares. These can be replaced individually as needed.

- Financial: There is approximately $11,000 left from the Butterfield Loan for renovations. The Vestry will discuss at the April meeting whether to return the $11,000, thus paying down the Loan, or to keep it to use for the work still needed to be done. Work still needed includes repair of the flashing around the roof, repair of the red doors, and plaster work on the inside at front and back of the sanctuary.

- Rector's Report: Heidi reported that she has joined the Formation/Education Committee which is charged with developing a Mission Statement about Christian formation in the Diocese.

- The Worship Committee has decided to have an "Easter egg stuffing party" on Holy Saturday. By inviting parishioners and children to join together in this activity, it is hoped to increase the visibility of the children in the congregation.

- The Ministerium Lenten Series began on March 8th with a potluck dinner hosted by St. Luke's at the Congregational Church. This year's theme is "Whole Life Worship." Heidi led those gathered in a Lexio Divina style Bible study based on Genesis 12:1-4. "Now the Lord said to Abram, "Go. . . ."

- Fuel Costs: There was discussion about whether or not to hold worship in Willard Hall rather than heat the sanctuary on especially cold Sundays, given the $5,000 per season cost of fuel oil. Conversation included the themes of frugality and stewardship of our limited financial resources, providing a space apart conducive both to worship and children's Sunday school. The congregation is asked to communicate thoughts on this to members of the Vestry. (Read the article in this page for further details.)

- Treasurer: We are still looking for someone to fulfill the duties of Treasurer. (Don't be shy, if you sense you are being nudged by God!) In the meantime, the Diocese can have someone from the Audit and Oversight Committee provide some help. We may decide to hire a person outside of the parish to do some of the monthly bookkeeping and report duties.

- Outreach: At next month's meeting (April 3rd), we will be discussing our Outreach philosophy and budget as a follow up to concerns raised during the Annual Meeting.

Continue reading at top of page

We welcome your thoughts on this important aspect of St. Luke's mission to "broaden and deepen God's Love." Remember that all are invited to attend and participate!

- Willard Hall Rental: Motion was made to rent Willard Hall for the amount of $75, from 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. on the 25th of March. It was seconded and carried unanimously. Janet will open and close the building, turn the Heat up and down and turn everything off at the end of the day.

- Other Matters: It was suggested by Belinda that separate discussion topics be included in our usual round of monthly focus topics. Discussion, followed by consensus to do so. General comments were made that the inclusion of this type of discussion or activity as part of the Annual Meeting may not be the most effective way to address them at the end of a long morning.

The meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m.. The next Vestry Meeting will be held on Monday, April 3rd and the focus topic will be "Fellowship."

In The Cold & Bleak Mid-Winter: We Need Your Input

We Need Your Input. How do we steward our financial resources? How do we steward our spiritual resources? How would God have us balance these responsibilities?

At the March Vestry Meeting we discussed whether or not we should hold worship in Willard Hall during the winter, rather than heat the sanctuary, especially on very cold Sundays. Our conversation included the themes of frugality and stewardship of our limited financial resources, the importance of providing a holy space apart conducive to worship, welcoming to newcomers and providing good space for the children's Sunday School program. We invite your thoughts and ask that you communicate them to members of the Vestry.

—Belinda Whipple Worth, Senior Warden

Christ Risen And Realized

Author George Thompson tells of a Jewish rabbi's appeal to Christians during the tumultuous 1930s. On Easter Eve, the rabbi wrote in a newspaper: "I challenge the Christian world to measure itself by the standards of Christ. As long as any group is judged by its creed or color or country in place of its character, Christianity is a sacrilege rather than sanctity. To this end, I summon Christians everywhere to make this Easter to signify Christ realized and not merely Christ risen."

St. Luke's Maple Fest Dinner & Raffle Enjoyed By All

On Saturday, March 11th, St. Luke's Maple Fest Dinner & Raffle—the annual fundraiser for PINS (Partners in Service)—was held in Willard Hall. Forty-three people attended, which was a disappointingly lower number than previous years. But those who did turn out and brave the chilling temperatures that evening were treated to a baked ham dinner with side dishes, plus a choice of wine and an array of desserts—all with a hint of maple syrup. This year, thanks to a generous donation from “a friend,” there were two tables teeming with gifts for the raffle held following dinner.

Many, many thanks to the faithful volunteers who step forward every year to make this one and only annual fund raiser a success. Certainly could not do it without you!!

PINS is a local outreach program to children and youth in crisis. PINS collaborates with the Springfield Department of Families and Children. The program allows social workers and other staff to voice the needs of the children in their caseloads, needs that would otherwise go unheard and unmet.

For the evening the dinner brought in $430, the raffle tickets sold amounted to $345, and donations for the wines were $66. Expenses for the event were for the meat and wines. Everything else was donated. The profit for the evening was $662.17, plus whatever left-over food was sold.

Every year the committee asks our liaison person, Robbie Wierzbicki from DCF, for 3 or 4 families who could benefit with an Easter dinner, boxes of food staples and Easter pails filled with toys and some candy for the kids. We are looking forward to that shopping expedition.

Thank you to all who had any part in making this fundraiser a success.

A lot of people didn't believe Jesus was the Savior because he didn't jibe with what they expected. He wasn't born royalty. He wasn't a high-ranking official or a noted scholar. So they missed out on embracing the King of Kings, the heart of our faith, the chief cornerstone of our life. Are we still doing this today?—Forward Day By Day, 4/24/14

Perhaps the main reason we need to praise God is not because it boosts up or changes God, but because it changes us. The more we praise God, the more we open our eyes to all that is praiseworthy in our lives and in the world around us. Praising God helps us focus on all that is good and holy in our lives.—Forward Day By Day, 4/28/15

We Invite You To Journey With Us Through Holy Week...A Pilgrimage Of Faith

Holy Week that signals the last stretch of our Lenten Journey will begin on the 9th of April, the Sunday of the Passion: Palm Sunday. At St. Luke's we invite you to take part in this life-changing journey as we join Jesus and the disciples for our Messiah's final week in the city of Jerusalem. With Jesus and the disciples this week, we are invited to participate in His final meal with the disciples in the upper room; to keep vigil as Jesus sends the night prayer; and then to follow Him as He is betrayed and then led away under false accusations to suffer death on a cruel cross. God's love for all humankind, thankfully, does not end in Jesus' death on the cross. We are invited to continue our journey as we go with the women to Jesus' tomb that stands empty.

The journey of Holy Week finds its culmination in The Great Vigil of Easter service where in darkness God's people gather in procession behind a single flame of light from a candle that will light our way until we see the True Light who is Jesus the Christ risen from the dead. Here it is where the solemnity of Lent and Holy Week are transformed by Christ's Resurrected glory into the joy of Easter that continues until all of us are drawn into God's Self as God's Community of Love in the world at Pentecost.

My prayer is that our path to God in this Season will continue to be blessed knowing that Christ walks with us every step of the way aiding and comforting us in our earthly endeavors. May our hearts be open to sharing in the grief and passion of our Lord so that we may also fully experience an overflow of joy knowing the salvation that is now ours thanks to Christ's victory over death at the Resurrection. —Heidi+

Ministerium Lenten Series: Whole Life Worship

Worship is more than a song or a corporate gathering on a Sunday morning. Based on Romans 12:1-2, it is the offering of our whole lives to God as a response to his mercies and greatness. Through this surrender, God renews our minds and transforms our character towards Christ-likeness. "Whole Life Worship" is an invitation for Christ-followers to worship God with their lives.
